UTA NEWS

Department of Communication, The University of Texas at Arlington

| HOME | UTA NI | EWS EN ESPAÑOL | NEWSCASTS | UTA SPOTLIGHT | ABOUT US | |
|-----------|--------|----------------|-----------|---------------|----------|--|
| UTA TV ST | REAM! | MAKE A GIFT | ARCHIVE | | | |

Micro Windmills

Posted on February 10, 2014 by tracieryan

Blogroll

Author Login

ElectroMedios.com

UT Arlington News Center

UTA Department of Communication

UTA News en Español on Facebook

UTA News on Facebook

UTA Radio

Search UTA News

Search ...

Search

A professor at UTA hopes to solve a problem for many people whose phones die often. Instead of lugging around a phone charger and trying to keep up with it, Dr. J.C. Chiao wants to make a phone sleeve with tiny windmills to power a device. He also hopes to make panels for houses with the windmills if the cell phone prduction works well.

By: Tracie Hill

2/11/2014

| \star Like Be the first to like this. | | | | |
|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Related | | | | |
| The Digital Divide In "NEWS" | Student Discoun In "NEWS" | Recycling In "NEWS" | | |
| Bookmark the permalink. | | | | |
| ← Facebook's 10th Anniversary | | HERE COMES ARLINGTON LOFTS \rightarrow | | |
| | | | | |
| Leave a Reply | | | | |
| Enter your comm | ent here | | | |
| | | | | |
| Blog at WordPress.com. Customized Visual Theme. | | | | |