Stat 2331 Section 801 – Spring 2011

Class Policies

1) I understand the evaluation scheme. That is, we will have (i) 3 hourly exams on February 28th (Monday), March 28th (Monday) and April 21st (Thursday), which are worth 50% of my overall grade; (ii) a final exam on Friday May 6th at 8:00a.m. – 10:00a.m. (Section 801), worth 20% of my grade; (iii) weekly homework worth 10% of my grade; (iv) weekly labs worth 10% of my grade; (v) in-class quizzes worth 10% of my grade.

2) I understand that late homework will not be accepted and that I cannot make up labs, homework, quizzes or exams. However, I may drop the lowest two lab scores, the lowest two homework scores and the lowest two quizzes score. I can only attend the lab that I officially registered to get credit for lab attendance. The lowest score on the three hourly exams will be dropped in determining the 50% component for these exams.

3) I understand that if I have an alternate learning pattern and require special arrangements for testing etc., I must have documentation provided by the office of the vice president for student affairs. I must provide this documentation to my Instructor before the exams.

4) I understand that homework is due at the beginning of each class on Thursday.

5) I understand that a short quiz is given at the beginning of each class.

6) I understand that I must take the final exam at the appointed time for my section. That is, Section 801 (TTH 2:00p.m.) must take the exam on Friday May 6th at 8:00a.m. – 10:00a.m..

7) I understand that the website http://faculty.smu.edu/ngh/stat2331_11s.html should be taken as the authority for the class, and that I am to view it frequently.

Print name..............................................................................................................................

Signature..............................................................................................................................

Student ID.........................................................................................................................

Date.................................................................................................................................